

Aromatic oil-fortified Hempanol<sup>TM</sup>

There is nothing like Hempanol Omega Spice Oil as a key essential fatty acid complex for overall health.* This is organic, cold-pressed hemp seed oil, combined with supercritical hemp extract along with other key plant extracts that contain naturally-occurring cannabinoids, including extracts of wild oregano, rosemary, turmeric, and holy basil. This makes the organic hemp seed oil extra potent. It also gives it a long shelf life, so it won't oxidize. In fact, Hempanol Omega Spice Oil is so stable that, unlike other hemp seed oil supplements, it requires no refrigeration.

Hempseed oil is a top source of critical essential fatty acids, needed by all cells and cell membranes for the maintenance of optimal health.* Essential fatty acids are required for proper protein digestion and assimilation and help support the function of the entire digestive tract. These oils are also essential for healthy skin, hair, and nails and, in fact, help beautify these components of the human body.*

Furthermore, hemp seed oil is a top source of gamma linolenic acid, a key fatty acid for the health of all the key elements of a healthy anti-inflammatory response.* This critical essential fatty acid is also needed for optimal support of a healthy hormone system, including the organs of sex and fertility.* Women with ovarian disorders know very well the value of gamma linolenic acid to support ovarian health and also to support a healthy transition during menopause.

Gamma linolenic acid is actually essential for all people, including adult males and children. For children it is a growth factor needed for building healthy cells.* Fairly rare, gamma linolenic acid is found in relatively few foods, mainly seeds and seed oils, of which hemp seed is among the richest sources.

The spice oils in Hempanol Omega Spice Oil make it super-charged for supporting healthy immune function and healthy hormonal status, as well as the health of the endocrine system.* These fatty acids are different from fish oils, as they are essential for cellular health, and without them, the cells and cell membranes degenerate.* It's special, because unlike other hemp seed oils it's shelf-stable, never requiring refrigeration.

So take your Hempanol Omega Spice Oil for optimal health, at least a tablespoonful daily for adults, a teaspoonful for children.* Stir it into tomato or V-8 juice for a spicy drink: for your better health.*
